

NAVIGATOR PREP JR. REGISTRATION FORM

Navigator PREP Jr. is a virtual preparation program that allows for eleventh grade students and their parents to proactively plan for the transition to college. Through a differentiated curriculum based on student needs, families will receive individualized transition counseling to better understand the post-secondary support model within higher education. Additionally, students and families work collaboratively with their Transition Counselor to identify the student's level of independent functioning with recommendations on how best to develop the executive functioning, social integration, and emotional regulation skills needed to find post-secondary success. Throughout the six months, students will receive individualized and group-based instruction as they develop a deeper understanding of the skills required to succeed in life after high school while also determining an appropriate college environment based on their learning profile.
